

World Cultural Heritage Hieiizan Hiking Map

Situated on the boundary between Shiga and Kyoto prefectures, Hieiizan forms a beautiful belt of five peaks. It stretches about 16 kilometers north and south, and its highest peak is Obiei, which rises 848 meters above sea level.

Visitors are charmed by the twittering of wild birds in spring and soothed by its clean air, which is cooler than that in the plain below, in summer, when the foliage is a brilliant green. Autumn turns the maple leaves scarlet over the whole mountain, and is followed by the tranquility of winter, which wraps it in pure white snow. It therefore presents a different aspect that will surely delight the senses in any season.
